DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. This action is responsive to the election and arguments filed on 20 November 2006. The examiner agrees that the Restriction Requirement filed on 18 October 2006 was improper because the groupings were not related in an intermediate and final product relationship as cited by the examiner. The restriction requirement filed on 18 October 2006 has been withdrawn for that reason only. The applicant's other arguments were not persuasive.

The examiner has reviewed the claims and still believes the claims to be directed toward multiple species which would be a burden to search as a single application. The new election of species requirement has been included below.

2. The applicant argues that the restriction filed on 18 October 2006 was not proper because the application had been previously restricted and fully searched by the prior examiner. The examiner respectfully disagrees with this argument. The previous examiner appears to have only addressed the invention or species of claims 1-6 in the Non-Final Rejection filed on 7 February 2006. Therefore that Non-Final Rejection is not proof that examining all the claimed species of this application within a single application is not a great burden on the examiner.

Restricting an application after a Non-Final Rejection has been filed is unusual but it is not improper. The examiner regrets this inconvenience this has caused the applicant, however the examiner feels the burden for searching and determining the patentability of these multiple distinct species is excessive.

3. The applicant also argues that the financial burden placed upon the applicant is a reason for the restriction requirement not being proper. While the examiner regrets the financial burden placed upon the applicant due to this restriction/election requirement, this is not grounds for the requirement being improper. However, the examiner welcomes the applicant to rejoin the claims directed toward the method of making the species that is elected in response to this action. That should reduce the financial burden on the applicant, while minimizing the undue burden on the examiner of having to search and determine the patentability of multiple distinct species.

Election/Restrictions

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- I. Figures 1-6E A hermetic package with reflowed glass solder
- II. Figures 6F-6G A hermetic package with a coupling tube around the cylindrical snout and the furication tube.
- III. Figures 7A-7D A hermetic package with a generally cylindrical snout having a lip and a first opening to solder seal the snout and the optical fiber and a second opening in the snout to introduce epoxy into the area inside the snout

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
